VETERANS INDIGNANT

WILL EXPRESS THEIR OPINION OF STATE MILITARY BOARD,

A MEETING TO-MORROW NIGHT.

INTEND TO RESENT THE INSULTS HEAPED UPON THEM.

Governor Leedy and His Tin Soldiers at Topeka Will Be Vigorously Scored by the Men Who Wore the Blue During the Rebellion,

The farewell meeting of Veteran Company E. K. N. G., will be held at Armory hall to-morow night. The company has een ordered mustered out of service by the state military board and to-morrow night's meeting is called for the purpose of getting the members together before they receive their official discharge and allow them to express their sentiments in regard to the treatment they have received at the hands of the military board.

express their sentiments in regard to the treatment they have received at the hands of the military board.

The meeting will be "very much indignation" and some burning resolutions will likely be adopted. Lieutenant Schiller stated yesterday that the members of the company were not at all grieved over the actions of the state board in mustering the company out of service, but that they were very sore over the uncalled for comment that certain members of the military board has been quoted as having made. The remark that the members of the company take offense at is in regard to the uniforms furnished the company by the state. A member of the board in giving his reasons for mustering the company out of service said that Company E, as well as the other companies mustered out, was a "dead expense" to the state, and that if the old soldiers wanted to parade around in uniforms they would have to go down in their own pockets and pay for the biue coats and brass buttons. He is also given credit of having said that if the old soldiers were not able to huy their own clothing they ought to be in the poor house.

This kind of talk does not go with the members of Company E, and it is very likely that they will resent the insult at tomorrow night's meeting. The company was organized by the old veterans of this city and much interest has been manifested in the company from the first. The old soldiers took great pride in the company and were always ready to shoulder the muskets and march whenever an occasion demanded. Some of the members hold Governor Leedy responsible for the board's actions in mustering the company out. The old soldiers have not yet been discharged and until their papers arrive they will remain members of Uncle Sam's reserve.

Last Friday her left leg was taken off at the knee, and the surgeons then thought they would be able to save the other limb. However, it became apparent that to allow the shattered member to remain Mrs. Johnson's life would have to be sacrificed, so the physicians decided on amputation. The operation was performed yesterday morning. The leg was taken off just above the knee. Mrs. Johnson stood the operation better than was expected, but she is steadily growing weaker and little hope is entertained for her recovery.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH

Bridge Gave Way With George Hoeflin and His Son, Who Fell Twenty Feet.

George Hoefin, a well known farmer living near White Church, and son, Samuel, had a narrow escape from death yesterday morning. They started to this city at about 4 o'clock, and while driving acress a wagon bridge rear the Grinter farm the structure gave way. The wagon and horses fell in a heap at the bottom of the ravine, a distance of about twenty feet. The escape of Hoefin and his son from instant death is remarkable.

They landed about fifteen feet from the wagon, and the horses and barring a few cuts and bruises about the head and body, they escaped injury. As soon as they recovered themselves they set to work releasing the horses from the pile of debris. One of the horses was not hurt, but the other had his left hind leg broken and it was otherwise crippled up. They finally had to shoot the animal. The wagon, which was loaded with berries, was completely demolished, and the crates of fruit scattered in all directions.

John Perry, the young negro who made a murderous assault on William Campbell, a stock buyer for the Swift Packing Company, at the stock yards about two weeks ago, was given a preliminary hearing before Judge Pfost, of the city court, yesterday on the charge of assault with intent to kill. A number of witnesses were examined, and, from the bulk of the testimony, the assault was a cowardly one.

After hearing the evidence the court announced that Perry would be bound over to the district court to stand trial, and fixed his bond at $500. He was unable to give ball, and was remanded to the county jall. Perry made a desperate break for liberily last week when he was arraigned for a hearing. He ran out of the court room, jumped down two flights of stair and ran for about fifteen blocks before he was recaptured.

THE NEWS AT LEAVENWORTH. New Governor of Soldiers' Home Expected July 1-Young Woman Dies Suddenly.

Dies Suddenly.

Everything is being arranged for transferring the governors of the Santa Monico and Western Soldlers' home at this place on July 1, the time set by the board of managers. Word has been received here that Colonel Rowland started from the Pacific home yesterday and that he may be here by Thursday.

It is said that Mrs. Smith has so far recovered from the shock of the dynamite explosion that she is able to walk around. It is said that Governor Smith and his family will not leave Leavenworth until after July 4. Should there be an interval between July 1 and the arrival of Colonel Rowland, Inspector General Brown will act as governor of this home.

The changing of the governors at this home is causing quite a stir among the veterans. Many of those who were officers under Governor Smith and were witnesses for him during the congressional investigation are about to leave. There will also be a number of changes in the minor officials.

E. B. Wheeler, Governor Smith's private secretary, will not be continued in this position under Colonel Rowland, who will have his daughter take the place. It is said that Wheeler has put in an application for chief clerk under the treasurer of the new home at Danville, Ill., and that he is walling for the appointment to be made.

Lieutenant Mohr, who was connected with the home police at this place at one time, is said to be stated for chief of the Santa Monico Soldiers' home police under Governor Smith. Robert Havs, Governor Smith's adjutant, is going to Santa Monico to fill the same position at that home.

John Egan, Governor Smith's orderly, will go to the home at Togus Me. John Sanders will take up his residence in the Milwaukee home. Half a dozen other friends of Governor Smith expect to follow him to the Pacific home later on.

A young woman named Ida Litchen died suddenly vesterday afternoon at her home on Randolph and Twelfth streets. It was at first reported that her death was due to unnutural causes, and the coroner went out and made an investigation. It did not take him long to discover that the woman passed away from heart disease. She was married at one time to a man named Hartman and was divorced recently and restored to her maiden usme of Litchen.

It is estimated that at least 25,000 people will leave or pass through the Missouri river gateways during the next few days. Reports from Chicago, St. Louis, Cincinnati, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Indianapolis, New Orleans and other gateways are that the traffic will be unprecedentedly large, and that Western railroads will have great difficulty in supplying sufficient equipment to care for it. This fact is expected to prevent the possibility of rate cutting to any great extent on the going trip. The return trip may cause cutting, as the movement cast bound will extend over a much greater period of time.

In addition to the traffic through to San Francisco on the going trip there will be a large travel to intermediate points, as all rates between common terminal or important points from Chicago to San Francisco have been reduced in order to neutralise the scalping of Christian Endeavor tickets by brokers. The buils of the business, however, is expected to go through to San Francisco. While a large proportion of the propective passengers are members of the Christian Endeavor Society, the great majority are not supposed to be, and the trip is taken simply on account of the low rates.

Instructions in Regard to Annual Reports.

Topeka, Kas., June 28.—(Special.) The state board of railroad commissioners to-day addressed a letter to the auditors of the Kansas roads submitting the following propositions in regard to the statistics for the annual report of the board:

First—in all cases where the origin and destination of any shipment by your line are both in Kansas, you will use the actual amount earned upon each shipment.

Second—in all interstate shipments where your company has a division of earnings at state lines, you will use the actual amount earned by your company.

Third—in all interstate shipments where no divisions of earnings exist at state lines you will prerate the earnings according to the number of miles hauled, giving to Kansas her portion of the total earnings of each shipment, in accordance with the number of miles that were hauled in Kansas. This will include all shipments originating outside the state; all shipments originating in and stopping in Kansas; and also all shipments originating outside the state; all shipments originating in some other state. The milesge basis is to be used only where the actual divisions of earnings at the state line do not exist. Actual earnings are preferable whenever possible to give them.

July 1, 1812, he was made general agent of the company, and July 1, 1897, he will be given entire charge for his line of all territory west of the Mississippi river. It is a remarkable coincidence that July 1 was the date of Mr. Mitchell's first connection with the Blue Line, and the date of every important change in his positions with that company. NOT ENOUGH EQUIPMENT.

Christian Endeavor Business Expected to Exceed Ability of Roads to Handle.

Chicago, June 28.—The Western roads have come to the conclusion that they will be about swamped with the amount of business to the Christian Endeavor convention in San Francisco. At the time of making the rate the general opinion was that it would not bring a large amount of traffic, but some of the roads now are having difficulty to get the necessary equipment to enable them to handle the traffic. Several of them have made urgent calls upon their connections for all the cars that can be spared, and everything on wheels that can be used will be utilized in carrying the business to San Francisco. There is a large amount of general traffic that will take advantage of the low rates to pay a visit to the Pacific coast.

Liberati week was opened auspiclously at Washington park last night by some fine music, a big crowd and great enthusiasm. The cornetist was at his best and every one of his solo numbers was encored, several of them three and four times, or until Liberati simply refused to respond. The old hymn tunes were particularly well received, as in these the full strength and sweetness of Liberati's playing is brought out to a degree not often equaled in other selections by the noted cornetist. The forger is said to be E. B. Turner, arrested a week ago by Detectives Hayde and O'Hare on several charges of petty forgery committed in Kansas City a year and a half ago. Last week Turner of petty forgery committed in Kansas City a year and a half ago. Last week Turner was arraigned before Justice Spitz and sent to the county jail to await a hearing.

The police suspected that Turner was the mysterious forger, and yesterday he was identified in his cell at the county jail by Mr. Harris, the employe at Doggett's upon whom he had passed a forged check. The cashier at Emery, Bird, Thayer & Co.'s, who was also victimized, declined to go to the jail, as he said he could not be certain of the man.

Turner's method was an original one. Three weeks ago Saturday, he visited Emery, Bird, Thayer & Co.'s, and asked for a statement of the account of Mrs. Webster Withers, He said he was employed by Mrs. Withers and she had sent him for the bill. It amounted to £2. In a short time he returned with a check on Camp Bros., at Council Bluffs, Ia., for £25, bearing Mrs. Withers' indorsement. The check was accepted, and Turner was given the receipted bill and £100 change. He left at once, and later worked a similar scheme at Doggett's for a similar amount. This time he used the name of Mrs. H. B. Sanborn, of Twenty-eighth street and Troost avenue. The checks went to protest at Council Bluffs, and were sent back here. Mr. Sanborn and Mr. Withers were notlified of the protested paper and at once notlified the merchants that the indorsements were forgod.

Turner, who had previously been arrested on four different charges of forgery, yesterday morning took a change of venue from Justice Spitz court to Justice Krueger. Turner was brought into court in charge of Detective Andy O'Hare. He informed the justice that he had employed no attorney but would take charge of his own charge of Detective Andy O'Hare. He informed the justice that he had employed no attorney but would take charge of his own case.

"My case was set for last Saturday, and I want to know why it was not tried then," he demanded of the justice. "I know that I am helpless now, but my time will come to get even with you folks."

Justice Spitz explained that the case had been continued at the request of the state. "Well, it's funny I was not consulted about the matter." said the prisoner. "Judge, order this detective to take these handcuffs off: I have a little waiting to do." "Andy, please take the bracelets off the gentleman's wrists," said Justice Spitz, with extravagant courtesy. The detective removed the handcuffs.

"Mr. Clerk, give me four change of venue blanks," directed Turner. "I know a thing or two about law."

B. J. Waters, the clerk of the court, handed Turner the blanks. The prisoner wrote industriously for a time, but stopped with a puzzled expression on his face. He looked at the justice and then at the clerk. He scratched his head and seemed to be racking his brain for something, in vain. Then he filled out the other three papers, but frequently paused to think. Finally his old confident manner returned.

"Let me have the papers in this case. I want to see the charge against me again," he said. Turner walked up to the clerk's desk and examining them, Justice Spitz winked at Detective O'Hare and changed the bottle of link Turner had been using. The prisoner had not noticed the change, and returned to his place. He then filled in something in each of the papers.

"There now, swear me to that, and I will go some place else with my case," said Turner.

The justice picked up the papers.

"There now, swear me to othat, and I will go some place else with my case," said Turner.

The instice picked up the papers.

FAIRMOUNT VAUDEVILLE.

Some New Faces and Some Familiar Ones Seen in This Week's BIII.

Irene Franklin and Hallen and Fuller are the new vaudeville artists appearing at the Fairmount auditorium this week. Miss the new vandevine artists appearing at the Fairmount auditorium this week. Miss Franklin, who is billed as a pocket edition of Marie Dressler, is a soubrette of child-shiy dainty proportions and with a charming stage presence that won her many friends in last night's audience. Her songs, while not remarkable for their rewness, were sung with good grace and a volce quite up to the standard of soubrette vocalism. Frederick Hallen, of the well known comedy team of Hallen and Hart, and Miss Mollie Fuller, were seen in a skit called "A Fair Exchange." The plece deals with the conversion of a very much advanced woman to the staid old-fashioned ways of the fast vanishing domestic woman, and during its presentation a number of songs are introduced. Merri Osborne, who is engaged for another week, sings several songs, one of which is new and of French extraction. "A Billious Attack," a short farce comedy, was put on by the sketch company, and a number not billed was the drill by the Knights of Father Mathew. An alarming preponderance of coon songs is very much in ovidence.

Depot Will Hereafter Be a Hen House Depot Will Hereafter Be a Hen House.

The former electric line depot at Thirtysecond and Main streets, in which W. D.
Jackson had a little stock of cigars and tobacco, was moved to J. W. L. Slavens' house yesterday and the stock of goods went with the depot. Mr. Jackson, who is an old man, claimed the Metropolitan company had promised to have an old car put in place of the former depot, which belonged to Mr. Slavens, and will be used as a ben house. The old man was seen standing on the corner yesterday disconsolately watching the removal of the structure, which contained his only means of obtaining a living.

 Ten Reasons Why

The members of the Kansas City Commercial Club and all manufacturers and merchants of Kansas City should favor the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway with their patronage:

Railway with their patronage
FIRST—It furnishes more territory in which Kansas City can profitably distribute goods than any other railway.

SECOND—It makes a specialty of fast time in making quick deliveries by "solid car" arrangements to all principal points, thereby insuring dispatch to the Kansas City jobber.

THIRD—It pays out more money for labor and material, employs more men and supports greater population than any other railroad in the territory tributary to Kansas City.

population than any other railroad in the territory tributary to Kansas City.
FOURTH—It has more property and pays out more taxes than any other institution in Kansas.
FIFTH—Its freight depot receives freight for points in more states and territories than that of any other railroad, thereby saving Kansas City shippers drayage.
SIXTH—It brings more farm products to the Kansas City market than any other railroad.
SEVENTH—It brought into the Kansas City Stock Yards during 1986 over 26 per cent of all the live stock received.
EIGHTH—Its dining cars are the best in the world, and its eating houses the best in America.
NINTH—Its equipment, its service, its roadbed and its track are interior to no other Western railway.

TENTH—It is foremost in the effort to build up and populate the Western country, all of which means prosperity to Kansas City.
